Beta Token

Introduction

Beta Token is designed to complement Alpha Token, forming a balanced and efficient financial ecosystem on the Solana blockchain. This whitepaper outlines the tokenomics, security features, key programs, and overall vision for Beta Token.

Tokenomics

Total Supply

- Approximately 4 quadrillion tokens

Community (60%):

Allocated for rewards, initiatives, and airdrops to incentivize community engagement and growth.

Allocation Breakdown

Development (10%):

Dedicated to ongoing innovation, application development, partnerships, and collaborations to enhance the ecosystem.

Liquidity (30%):

Ensuring market stability by providing sufficient liquidity.

Security Features

Renounced Mint Authority

After the initial supply distribution, the mint authority will be renounced to prevent further minting of tokens. This measure ensures a fixed total supply and protects against inflation.

Contract Renounced

The contract will be renounced to ensure it cannot be altered after deployment. This guarantees the integrity and immutability of the token's smart contract.

Liquidity Burned

To prevent bots and snipers, liquidity provided will be burned after one week. This approach allows early access for family, friends, and early adopters, ensuring a fair distribution.

Zero Fees and Tax

No Transaction Fees

Beta Token allows users to transact without any fees, making it cost-effective and straightforward to use.

No Taxation

There are no taxes on transactions, providing a user-friendly and efficient transaction experience.

Key Programs

Maximize Rewards

Engage and transact with Beta Token to maximize returns. Users can compound returns and create passive income by also investing in Alpha Token, leveraging the synergy between the two tokens.

Community Application

A new app is in development to track investments, rewards, liquidity, events, community news, reward balances, vesting schedules, and revenue bonus multipliers. This app will provide comprehensive management tools for token holders.

Referral and Rewards

Incentives are provided for content creation and community engagement. The referral and rewards program encourages users to participate actively in the ecosystem, fostering growth and collaboration.

Liquidity Support

Profits from providing liquidity across Solana are split 50/50 between community and development wallets. This mechanism ensures sustainable returns for the community by collecting fees from high-volume transactions on Solana's network.

Collaborations

Beta Token will partner with leading projects to enhance the ecosystem. These collaborations will drive innovation and adoption, benefiting both the Beta Token community and the broader blockchain space.

Beta Token

Conclusion

Beta Token is your gateway to Alpha Token and is determined to achieve blue chip status on Solana. By leveraging blockchain efficiency, we ensure that value is shared with everyone. Join us, diamond hand your tokens, and shape the future of blockchain finance. Early adopters gain the most. Don't miss out!
